What this reading is. The calculation is done by a program from astronomical data. Human Design, astrology, Jyotish, numerology and the Destiny Matrix are not scientific systems, and this reading is for self-exploration. It is not medical, psychological, legal or financial advice and does not replace seeing a professional. Decisions remain yours.

The essentials — on two pages

After this come several dozen pages of detail. If you don't have time to read them now, this spread is enough to get started.

What to do in the next 3 months

October 2026. Pick one decision in your personal goals that you've been putting off for more than a month, and take the first step by 31 October. What not to do: don't take on too much at once: promises and spending are easy to inflate in a period like this.

November 2026. Until 30 November, make any “change everything” decision in conversations, study and paperwork not on the same day but after a pause of three days or more. What not to do: don't act rashly: “right now and forever” decisions in weeks like these are most often revised.

December 2026. By 31 December, identify what drains your energy in conversations, study and paperwork and cut it back; a month later, check whether it got easier. What not to do: don't hold on out of habit to what no longer works.

Key takeaways about your year

1. In your personal goals, it's a good time to make things last: what you do now holds for a long time (may 2027). What to do: finish one thing you've started in your personal goals by 30 May and put the agreements in writing.

2. At home and with those close to you, you're tempted to aim wider than your energy and money allow (september 2027). What to do: by 21 September, work out the real cost of what you want at home and with those close to you, in money and in hours.

3. In big plans and study, deadlines and limits press on you; results take hard work (march 2027). What to do: by 24 March, break a big task in big plans and study into pieces and do the first one.

If nothing like this happens on these topics within these dates, the forecast didn't fit you — and that is an answer too. Month by month details are in the section on the year.

The main themes of your chart

1. Human Design: you are a Manifesting Generator. How to get into things — wait for a response, respond and inform; decisions are made by your sacral authority, not your head.

2. Profile 2/4 — Hermit / Opportunist: it's about how you learn and how people find you.

3. Astrology: Sun in Gemini — what you show the world, Moon in Pisces — what feeds and calms you.

4. Jyotish: your birth star is Shatabhisha — your habitual way of reacting when no one is watching.

5. Numerology: Life Path number 4 — a task that keeps coming back in different settings all your life.

6. Destiny Matrix: the center of the chart is code 8 “Fair Count”: what everything else gathers around.

What to rely on

This always works and doesn't depend on who's around or what mood you're in:

• Channel of the Beat (the Keykeeper), 2–14: directing resources; the key to your own path and prosperity

• Channel of the Prodigal (the Witness), 13–33: a witness of experience; keeps and passes on stories

• Supports that are always with you: Throat, G Center (Self), Sacral — these centers run on their own energy and don't depend on who's around.

Where you usually trip up

Not flaws, but places where it's easy to mistake someone else's for your own:

• Head (Crown) — as in your other open centers, here you amplify what belongs to others and easily mistake it for your own. Check question: Am I trying to sort out questions that aren’t important to me?

• Ajna. Check question: Am I pretending to be certain, as if I know everything?

• Heart (Ego/Will). Check question: Am I trying to prove my worth, and am I handing out promises?

A test for a week

For a week, alternate days: on one, get into things as usual; on the other — by your strategy (wait for a response, respond and inform). Every evening, note two words: the main task of the day — “done” or “not done”, and how it went — “easy” or “a struggle”. A day that was easy because the task wasn't done doesn't count in the strategy's favor. After a week, compare the two piles: if on strategy days “done and easy” comes up no more often than on ordinary days, this part of the calculation didn't fit you, and that's an honest result, not a failed experiment.

What you can't decide from this file

This reading is not for deciding whether to get treatment, whether to quit your job, where to invest money, whom to break up with or what your child should be like. It's a language of self-observation, not a source of knowledge about the world: it hasn't been tested by science and doesn't replace a doctor, psychologist, lawyer or your own judgment.

First — every term explained in plain words

This reading uses some terms. Don't let them put you off: here's what they mean in plain words. Come back to this page if you forget something.

The chart (bodygraph)

It's a “diagram” of your energy, calculated from the date, time and place of birth. It stays the same your whole life — like a fingerprint, only for character and energy.

Personality and Design — how you see yourself and how people see you

The most important idea in the whole reading. Each of us has two halves. PERSONALITY (black in the charts) is calculated for the moment of your birth: it's what you KNOW about yourself — “that's me”. DESIGN (red) is calculated about 3 months before birth, when the body was forming: it's what runs in you on autopilot. You hardly see it — but OTHER PEOPLE see it in you at first glance.

Hence the main paradox: how you see yourself and how people see you are TWO DIFFERENT THINGS, and both are true. When someone says “but you always do that!” and you're surprised — “me? never!” — that's your Design showing from the outside, invisible from within.

> Tip: ask people close to you how they see you — and compare it with this reading. You'll be surprised how accurately they describe your “red”.

Gates

64 energy “buttons”, like 64 character traits. At the moment of birth the planets “pressed” some of them — these Gates are switched on for your whole life: they are your innate themes. The rest aren't “broken” — you simply pick up those themes from other people.

Channels

Gates live in pairs. If both halves of a pair are switched on, you get a whole channel: a steady talent of yours. If only one is, other people “bring” the second half, and an attraction arises between you.

Centers (defined / open)

9 energy “rooms” (like chakras). Defined (coloured in) — works steadily; it's your foundation. Open (blank) — there you don't produce your own energy but let others' pass through: sometimes amplifying it, sometimes confusing it with your own. Open isn't a defect, but it isn't a merit either: it's just a different mode of operation. You can test it: if around a particular person you're reliably pulled into their state, and alone it lets go within an hour or two — the center works exactly like that. If you notice nothing of the kind, this part of the calculation didn't fit you.

Shadow, Gift and Siddhi

Each of your energies has three “volume levels”. SHADOW — how it sounds when you're drained, scared or living a life that isn't yours (the worst version). GIFT — how it sounds when you're at peace and in your place (the working, best version). SIDDHI — how it can sound at the peak of maturity (the beacon version life leads you towards). These aren't three different qualities but ONE — at different depths.

> Tip: don't fight the Shadow — it isn't an enemy but a sensor. If the Shadow shows, it's time to rest or return to your Strategy, and the energy will rise to the Gift by itself.

Lines (numbers 1–6)

Each Gate is switched on in one of six “styles” — like the same instrument in the hands of six different masters. A detailed legend of the lines is at the end of the Human Design part.

Strategy and Authority

The two most practical words in the reading. Strategy is HOW you enter things correctly (wait for a response, wait for the invitation, inform). Authority is WHAT you use to make decisions correctly (your body, your emotional wave, your intuition — not other people's advice). Live by them and life flows more easily; go against them and there's constant resistance.

Signature and Not-Self — your personal compass

Every Type has two beacons. The SIGNATURE is the feeling that you're living correctly (for Generators it's satisfaction). The NOT-SELF is the recurring feeling that you're off your path (frustration, anger, bitterness or disappointment — each Type has its own). It's not a “good/bad” verdict but a sensor: when you notice your Not-Self, remember your Strategy.

Aura

How your energy affects people before any words — the “climate” you bring into a room. Each Type's aura works in its own way; hence the different Strategies.

Terms from other parts of the reading

ORB (astrology) — how far an aspect is from exact, in degrees: the smaller, the stronger the connection sounds. LAGNA (Jyotish) — the rising sign, the “face” of the chart; it moves by a sign every two hours, so it needs an exact birth time. RAHU and KETU (Jyotish) — the same North and South Nodes of the Moon as in Western astrology, only under Sanskrit names. ARCANUM (Destiny Matrix) — one of the 22 image cards of the Major Arcana of the Tarot; the matrix turns the date of birth into codes from 1 to 22 and reads them through these images.
